Cloud9 Analytics Receives Series B Funding

Funding for accelerated product development, sales, and marketing comes as a result of outstanding sales performance and customer acquisition

San Mateo, CA, June 11, 2009 – Cloud9 Analytics, the leading provider of on-demand operational performance management solutions, today announced that the company has received its Series B funding from current investors InterWest Partners and Leapfrog Ventures. The company expects to use the funds to broaden its award-winning Dynamic Pipeline Management solutions portfolio as well as to expand sales and marketing operations globally.

“Just six months ago, Cloud9 introduced its unique suite of operational performance management solutions targeted at sales executives using salesforce.com. Since then, the company has added more than 50 customers and exceeded its operational objectives,” said Bruce Cleveland, partner at InterWest Partners. “Clearly, to perform so well in such an extremely challenging economic environment marks Cloud9 as a compelling investment opportunity that we believe can outpace the market as macroeconomic conditions improve later this year.”

“We are gratified that InterWest and Leapfrog continue to be impressed with our market and financial results, particularly given the justified scrutiny venture capital firms employ today when evaluating further investment in their portfolio companies,” said Swayne Hill, CEO of Cloud9. “Combined with the rapid acceptance of Cloud9 Dynamic Pipeline Management solutions at companies of all sizes, including global enterprise-class organizations, we anticipate this investment will see the company through to break-even or near break-even in 2010. With this funding securely in place, Cloud9 can now focus on its mission to provide on-demand operational performance management solutions to line-of-business (LOB) managers.”

About Cloud9 Analytics

Cloud9 Analytics is the global leader in on-demand operational performance management solutions delivered directly to line-of-business managers. The company’s initial product, Cloud9 Dynamic Pipeline Management Suite for salesforce.com, enables sales leaders to more effectively manage their opportunities and teams. The result is a dramatic increase in deal conversion rates, higher CRM adoption, and improved forecast accuracy. Powered by patented row-level database technology, Cloud9’s applications deliver value in just 24 hours and require zero installation, zero maintenance and zero IT support. Cloud9’s customers include GENBAND, Data Domain, Ryder, Siemens, and Thermo-Fisher Scientific. The company is headquartered in San Mateo, California.
